

Synopsis

Hong Kong is a financial hub where many people trade in stocks. But despite their constant forays into the stock market, how savvy are individual investors? How much do they know about investing, investment snares, financial crimes and above all, the role of the SFC, which regulates the securities and futures markets?

SFC in Action follows how four SFC investigators, King (Kong Wah), Christina (Jade Leung), Keung (Johnson Yuen) and Wai (Wong Pak-to) unravel the plot of perpetrators Linda (Pinky Cheung), Tony (Wai Ka-hung) and Kwun-bo (Pal Sinn). As the drama develops, commonly deployed tactics of market misconduct, such as insider dealing and market manipulation, are revealed and how the SFC executes its important regulatory role is depicted. Behind the excitement of cracking crimes, the often fragile nature of human beings – be they investigators, offenders or unsuspecting investors – is brought to the open. The portrayal of how people from all walks of life play the financial markets is thus made more personal and realistic.
