‘SECURITIES AND FUTURES ORDINANCE (Chapter 571)
(‘the Ordinance’)

(Notice under section 134(6)(a))

Pursuant to its power under section 134(1) of the Ordinance, the Securities and Futures Commission (‘the Commission’), on 21 January 2011, granted a waiver of the condition imposed under section 116 of the Ordinance on the licence of Jefferies Hong Kong Limited (‘the applicant’) for the reason that the Commission had been satisfied by the applicant the granting of waiver would not prejudice the interests of its clients.

Prior to the granting of the waiver, the licence of the applicant was subject to the condition that the licensee shall not hold client assets. The terms ‘hold’ and assets are as defined under the Securities and Futures Ordinance.
